

UNIVERSITY OF SANTO TOMAS

The Antoninus Journal

A Multidisciplinary Journal of the Graduate School

CALL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

The Antoninus Journal

A Multidisciplinary Journal of the University of Santo Tomas Graduate School

The Antoninus Journal (TAJ) is now accepting manuscripts for evaluation. Submissions will be welcome all throughout the year. However, the final date of acceptance and publication will depend on the ability of the authors to comply with the results of the peer-review process and the comments of the editor-in-charge for the manuscript.

Please check the Guidelines for Manuscript Submission in the UST Graduate School Website (<http://graduateschool.ust.edu.ph/research-papers/>). TAJ will now be available in both print and on-line versions through the UST Graduate School website.

Contributors may submit their manuscript by email to antoninus.ustgradschool@gmail.com. All communications should be addressed to:

Assoc. Prof. Rey Donne S. Papa, Ph.D.
Editor
The Antoninus Journal: A Multidisciplinary Journal of the UST Graduate School
Room 301, UST Graduate School
Thomas Aquinas Research Complex

Volume 3 is expected to be in press by February 2017.

Guidelines for Manuscript Submission

1. The journal accepts research articles, including reports of faculty researches, excerpts from graduate theses and dissertations, and scholarly works such as theoretical and critical essays that reflect on or critique established theories, current literatures, and other emerging concepts across disciplines; Reviews, including book reviews, performance reviews, and the like.
2. The article should be accompanied by a 200-word abstract with a list of not more than 6 key words. Articles written in Filipino should be accompanied by an abstract in English. The article should be from 4,000 to 6,000 words in length.
3. Submissions may be sent in MS Word format using either Arial or Times New Roman font style at 12 font size. The journal requires authors to strictly conform to the citation styles of the American Psychological Association (APA) for articles in the humanities and the social sciences and the Harvard format for natural and health sciences.
4. Manuscripts should be original and have not yet been submitted to other journals nor have appeared in abridged or slightly similar form in other publications. Authors also bear the responsibility of securing the permission of concerned institutions and individuals who may have any claim on copyrighted materials such as photos and excerpts from primary documents.
5. The article proper should not bear any identifying information such as name of author and institutional affiliation. Instead, authors are required to submit a separate page bearing the following information:

Name of Author

E-mail Address

Institutional Affiliation and Contact Numbers of Institution

A Bio Note consisting of not more than 100 words

Contributors may submit their manuscript by email to antoninus.ustgradschool@gmail.com. All communications should be addressed to:

Assoc. Prof. Rey Donne S. Papa, Ph.D.

Editor

The Antoninus Journal: A Multidisciplinary Journal of the UST Graduate School

Room 301, UST Graduate School

Thomas Aquinas Research Complex